Registration Changes Begin Today In ELWC

Changes in Registration will begin today in room 245 of the Wilkinson Center and continue until September 30.

Students should be aware that in order to obtain a change in registration card they must go to their advisor who upon consultation will issue the necessary card.

Further instruction for completing the procedure will be found on

Wilkinson To Address Assembly

BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson will be the speaker on the first Forum Assembly of the year, Thursday at 10 a.m.

President Wilkinson has been president of BYU nearly fifteen years.

During his tenure at BYU, the institution has become the largest university in the Great Basin area, and one of the largest church-related universities in the nation. Enrollment increased from 4,654 in 1950 to about 20,000 this year.

President Wilkinson also has placed great emphasis on scholarship at BYU. During his administration the curriculum has been completely revised.

the back of the card.

Changes will be processed free today, Thursday, and Friday only. After Friday it will be cost the student $5.00 for each change in registration card processed, according to registration officials.

ONE CARD

Only one card should be necessary to complete all changes, however students are urged to complete their changes during the first three days.

September 30 is the last day on which classes may be added or dropped. After the first week the finalization process will move from the Wilkinson Center to the Registration Office located on the main floor of the Abraham Smoot Administration Building.

BYU students and their relations continue to become traffic statistics.

The latest fatality is Susan Ann Kitley, 461 N. 2 E., Provo, wife of Trent Kitley, BYU senior. Mrs. Kitley, on her way to teach second grade in American Fork, was involved in a two car collision at eight o'clock, Monday morning. She was the passenger of a car driven by Carol Courtney, 571 W. 4 S., Provo.

Although there have been no traffic fatalities on campus, there were a number of

Jam Fieldhouse

Students from all states in the nation and 60 foreign countries waved state and national banners and rocked the rafters with cheers for home as BYU held its traditional "Welcome Back" assembly in the Smith Fieldhouse Tuesday.

STUDENTS NOISY

Seated according to geographical origin, the students became noisy long before the assembly began and nearly filled the Fieldhouse before the 9 a.m. classes were dismissed for the meeting.

Only about half of the estimated studentbody of 20,000 could jam into the big basketball arena.

Sound was piped into the west annex of the Fieldhouse, the Wilkinson Center and two theaters in the Harris Fine Arts Center. Television projectors carried the proceedings on huge screens in the de Jong Concert Hall of the Fine Arts Center, and in the Joseph Smith Auditorium.

STATE VS. STATE

"Z-I-O-N," chanted the big segment of Utah students. The Californians countered with "Hey, Utah, Zion's over here."

From the balcony came, "We'll take your money any old time.

NEVADA! NEVADA! NEVADA!"

While the Southerners sang, "Dixie," the New Englanders tried to drown them out with, "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy."

RISE AND SHOUT

Everybody was silence when the booming Cougar Marching Band and President Ernest L. Wilkinson unified the groups into a single studentbody.

Miss Mae Vs. L'il Abner Friday Night

Pin-on-patches for Friday's AWS-sponsored Sadie Hawkins Dance may be purchased until Friday in the Wilkinson Center Patio and the SPLC for 75 cents a couple.

The dance will be in the Main Ballroom 8:30 p.m. to midnight. Square dancing will be held in the West Patio with a professional caller.

Friday at noon the "Great Chase" between Daisy Mae and L'il Abner portrayed by Glenda Gardner and Paul Gilbert will take place in the Wilkinson Center. The AWS Council announced that students may come to classes in costume Friday to celebrate the event. Cut-offs will not be acceptable for the girls to comply with dress standards, the council added.

deaths on the highways of students bound for BYU, according to the Student Personnel Service.

And 118 traffic accidents have occurred between February first and the end of summer school, according to Captain Sven Nielsen of security.

Along with the distress and confusion caused by the 118 traffic mishaps, a total of $10,345 in damages have been reported, said Capt. Nielsen.

In an attempt to curtail the mounting traffic statistics, security has begun enforcement of speed laws by the use of radar. With the recent count of 18,000 motor vehicles crossing the campus in a one hour period, security urges all drivers and pedestrians to use special precaution.

Captain Nielsen said his department would not use hidden traps to catch speeders but the radar would be used to time offenders.

Funeral services for Mrs. Kitley, who had no children, will be held in Ontario, California, Saturday morning, Bishop Merrill Bradshaw said.

City Bosses Oppose Unionization Of Police

SALT LAKE CITY UPI—The Salt Lake City Commission failed to act yesterday on an organized labor resolution asking that the commission rescind its earlier position of opposition to unionization of the police department.

The resolution, signed "Organized Labor in the State of Utah," contended "the right of city employees to join a union has been challenged by members of the City Commission."

The resolution also contended that Major J. Bracken Lee had cast aspersions on labor, implying in statements quoted by the news media that unions are infiltrated by persons with criminal backgrounds.

Lee admitted the statements but said if taken in the context of actual conversation, they had not implied the existence of any criminal element in Utah union organizations.

RIGHT TO JOIN

The resolution was presented to the commission by C. E. Berger, president of the Utah AFL-CIO, and leaders of 11 other state union organizations.

Berger said every city employee whether "a member of the police department or the garbage department" has the right as a free American citizen to join the union of his choice.

Lee countered that unions are the strongest political power in the state. He said "I don't want polities in the police department. I don't want policemen in the civil service making campaign contributions through the unions."

QUESTION OF MOTIVE

Commissioner Com. B. Harrison explained that the commission's action late last month was not designed to prohibit the formation of a policeman's union, nor was it meant as a sign of the commission's opposition to organized labor.

He said the commission's resolution was meant only to put the commission on record as feeling unionization of the department was not in the best interest of Salt Lake City.

"I'm on the side of what I think is honestly right and when the union is right I'll support it."

Ford Announces

1967 Car Prices

DETROIT, UPI—Ford Motor Co. boosted prices on 1967 model cars Tuesday with increases ranging up to $34 per vehicle above 1966 models.

There were a few price cuts of just a few dollars. But most models showed price tags $60 to $160 more than the base price of 1966 models. Ford said the prices averaged only $25 per car more than comparably equipped 1966 models. But addition of new equipment ranging from safety items to automatic transmissions, both previously optional, increased the prices much further.

Ford was the first car maker to announce its 1967 prices.

students understand and follow the standards of the University.

The Honor Code applies to the student's life both on and off campus and during vacation periods. It applies equally to members and nonmembers of the L.D.S. Church.

Academic violations of the code do not become part of any official University record if resolved to the satisfaction of the Honor Council and Dean of Students.

It should be noted that both faculty and students have a responsibility to either become personally involved in attempting to help a student who has violated the Honor Council or the Office of University Standards.

When a B.Y.U. student has been accused of any violation of University standards, he has a right to be informed of the exact nature of the violation of which he is accused. (As approved by the students, faculty, and administration, Spring, 1966.)

Talk About Weather

GENEVA, UPI—More than 100 scientists and experts in instrumental technology began talks here yesterday aimed at establishing a world-wide net-work of weather stations.

The conference, sponsored by the World Meteorological Organization, will consider expanding the number of stations that can transmit code by radio and cable to computers for analysis.

Brigham Young University baseballers were found in rich abundance among the ranks of WAC record-breakers for the 1965 season.

Leading the list was Tom Fife, catcher for the Cougar nine, who captured the 1968 WAC batting crown with an average of .494.

During the season Fife shared the Cougar backup duties with veteran Tom Wier and had only 31 times at bat in conference games.

Home run honors were shared by first sacker Red Parker and outfielder Jim Greene, both of Brigham Young, at four each.

Y Intramurals Participation

Entries are now being accepted in 112 Richards Physical Education Building from individuals and groups who are interested in the 1966 Y's intramural programs.

Clubs, wards, housing units, and independents are all especially encouraged to participate in any or all of the 34 different sports.

The intramural program, which is designed to promote athletic competition and spirit among groups on campus, attracted over 14,000 students last year, according to John Hansen, director of the Intramurals Department.

"We hope that even more will enter this year," said BYU's outgoing activities and programs director, Hansen.

Intramural handbooks and additional information are available in the intramural office. Information is also posted on bulletin boards across from the post office in the Wilfong Center, on top of the Smith Fieldhouse stairs, and in Corinne Center, Deseret Center, Smith Fieldhouse, and the Richards Building.

Kitten Coach Welcomes 'Good' Litter; Seeks Repeat Of Undefeated Season

Sixty football players termed as a "good group of athletes" by Brigham Young University freshman coach Wayne Starrett missed their fifth practice session of college football Tuesday.

Of the 66 who reported Friday most were from the last year's Utah high school crop. The group included Ron Call and Bob Winegar from the class "A" Davis High School champions, plus Carl Hill, Stewart of Provo, quarterback for the 1965 champion of West High and Lester Gunderson of Olympus High, tackles Scott May of Ben Lomond and Hugh, and Trout Leesford of Oregon, and Mike Jarosken of Viewmont High, and back Brian Engleking of Orem.

Coach Starrett has six quarterback backs in the training camp. Besides Sanders and Gunderson the signal callers are Don Griffin from Arkansas, Larry Eichstaedt from Farmington, N.M., Rick Stanford from Washington, and Paul Sater from Idaho. Call in five years, and no less than 15 players from the fresh squad are now wearing the varsity colors.

The fresh work out daily beginning at 2:30 p.m. Much of the practice period is spent working with the varsity in various situtions.

The first fresh game is set for Oct. 21 at the BYU Stadium against the University of Utah. Utah fresh BYU went 2-0 against the Utah team in '65 winning by scores of 27-7 in Salt Lake City and 41-2 in Provo.

Cougar Grid Showing Indicates Repeat Of Offensive Explosion

There are signs that indicate the Cougars are going to be as offensively explosive this year as they were last fall when the club finished fourth in the nation in total offense.

Carl Lindley, coach of the Y's offensive backfield, isn't exactly sanguine about the prospects, but he has some reservations.

"The backs are working hard, I would be as good, or better, than last year," admits Lindley. "But the secret is—we must stay away from injuries and keep the right mental attitude."

Virgil Carter (no. 14) evades two Colorado State tacklers as he heads around left end in this action during 1965 season.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HOUSE of REPRESENTATIVES A NEW APPROACH TO STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Class of 1969 announces openings for responsible, friendly, mature students interested in serving in a very different SOPHOMORE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, a fresh, new approach to student leadership.

REQUIREMENTS:

1. No previous experience in student government is necessary.
2. Responsible, mature attitude.
3. Willingness to devote small amount of time each week to this position.
4. Since Representatives will work directly with class members, an outgoing, friendly personality is desirable.

If you think you can qualify, and if you are sincerely interested, we strongly encourage you to apply for a personal interview with the Class Officers. Apply anytime this week in the Sophomore Class Office, 447 ELWC.

NOTE: All those who made application last spring, but were not interviewed then, please contact Officers in 447 ELWC.

When asked if he felt the team could match or exceed the 3,691 yards gained last year he confided: "That's a lot of yards, but we're going to be shooting for it."

The Cougars' first shot will be Saturday against San Jose State.

Really, it must be difficult to restrain one's enthusiasm when talking about the Cougars' offense.

After all, they do have the WAC player of the year (quarterback Virgil Carter), throwing to the WAC lineman of the year (split end Phil Odle); plus the WAC rushing champion of the last two seasons (fullback John Ogden) packing the ball into the line.

Carter stamped himself as All-American candidate last season, and will be adding to his offensive records every time he passes or runs the ball. The same can be said of Ogden and Odle.

MORE DEPTH

If the Cougars are offensively stronger this year, it will be because the team has more depth and experience.

Besides the trio mentioned, the Cougars have such proven personnel as tailback Steve Ogden, Kent Oborn, Tim Russell, and Wally Hawkins.

The newcomers include two seasoned players, wingback Casey Boyett and tailback Perry Rodriguez. Rodriguez is out front in the race for the tailback position, and Boyett is pressing Oborn for the starting berth at wingback.

Junior letterman Stewart Simpson and sophomore Marc Lyons will doubtless get some playing time at quarterback.

FULLBACK INSURANCE

Ogden's brother Steve, who has played wingback and tailback, has been moved to fullback as insurance in that position. Junior LaVern Swanson will be backing up John, if Steve is called upon to run at tailback.

Rodriguez will have company at tailback in the form of Steve and junior Wally Hawkins.

A Man For All Seasons Now Being Sought For

What happens to a man who has office October 14? "A Man For All Seasons" opens its one week run October 21.

Thomas More, the royal chancellor to England's Henry VIII, in Brigham Young University's first annual theatre production, "A Man For All Seasons."

Most modern playwrights have a pretty low opinion of modern man, who appears all too often on the stage as a hulking, lost soul. English playwright Robert Bolt has created a strong specimen of humanity interwoven with vigorous integrity in the witty Sir Thomas More.

The play takes up Thomas More as England's Chancellor in 1539 when he begins to look horns with Henry VIII. Ordered to sacrifice the King's faith from Catherine of Aragon so he can wed Anne Boleyn, More remains loyal to the Church of Rome and refuses to grant that a King be ever so mighty, can flout God's laws. The resulting clash brings stature to the modern theatre as King and Boleyn Saint sweep the play boldly and movingly to a profound end.

"A Man For All Seasons" is now being cast by Dr. Harold J. Hansen. The play offers roles for eleven men and three women ranging from the unvarying saint, Thomas More, to the common mass. Tryouts for the production will be held this coming Thursday and Friday from 4-6 p.m. in the Arens Theatre, C-388 HFAC.

Tickets go on sale in the HFAC.

How to balance a college budget

Most people have to play it close in college . . . that's why so many take advantage of First Security's CHECKWAY checking account plan. It's easy to see why:

No minimum balance is required. Keep as much as you want on deposit, or just enough to cover the checks you write. Each check costs only 10¢ deducted from your account when the check clears through the bank. A modest 25¢ is charged each month to maintain your account and cover the cost of monthly statements. You get 200 free checks imprinted with your name and address, free checkbook, free deposit slips and statements are mailed to you monthly containing your cancelled checks plus an itemized record of your account.

And most important, you can keep an accurate record of what you spend with a CHECKWAY account. You'll always know exactly where you stand, when you pay, how much you paid, and what you have left to spend.

Come in today. Begin balancing your budget this simple, safe and sensible way . . . with a CHECKWAY checking account.

ASBYU Meeting Held; Committee Named

Legislative activity for the ASBYU Assembly opened Monday night with a meeting conducted by Assembly President Carl Blake.

The main order of business was a reconsideration of a bill passed last spring giving representation to the assembly to the AWS and DMS.

ASBYU President Lynn Southam told the bill.

Dave Thomas, ASBYU attorney general, explained that the bill was dead because its wording made unconstitutional. He said the bill was sent to a steering committee for further consideration and amendment.

Appointed to permanent committees were: Roger Lambert, Rules; ark Howard, Student Government and Internal Affairs; Duane Chase, Student Services and Activities; Gene Lines, Publicity and Public Relations; Leo Bues, Finance; and Don Davison, Research.

Leona Farley was appointed secretary.

One assemblyman from each class will be appointed to the social class.

A new feature of the assembly this year will be the issuing of 50 invitations weekly to individual students who will view the proceedings of the assembly and offer suggestions and opinions.

Receptionists Needed

Interviews will be conducted this week for receptionist positions the Daily Universe. Contact Wendy Johnson today through Friday, 11-12 p.m., 339 ELWIC.

Tutors Ready In Every Field

Tutoring services will be available this year in all areas of study according to David Tolbert, graduate assistant in charge of tutoring services.

"Students should not be afraid to contact tutors" said Tolbert and stressed the advantage of contacting tutors early in the semester.

Tolbert said that all tutors must be selected and approved through the University. Anyone interested in being a tutor should pick up a form in A424 Smoot Administration Bldg. and have it signed by his department chairman.

CONTACT OFFICE

Students interested in contacting a tutor should check with the tutoring office and will be given names and telephone numbers of qualified tutors. A Brigham Young University suggested pay scale of $2.00 per hour for individuals and $2.50 per hour to be shared among a group for undergraduate tutors has been set.

Meet Ralph Frey Jr., 19

He's a college junior.

He has a pilot's license.

He can read 3,000 words a minute

Watching Ralph's hand fly over the pages (his hand acts as a pacer), you can't believe that he's actually reading. He must be skimming.

But he's not.

Ralph Frey can read the average novel in a little under 40 minutes. Once, while standing in a bookstore, he read three complete novels before he was asked to leave.

He studies between 1,500 to 2,000 words a minute, and rarely dips below 1,000 wpm, even on the toughest material.

Good recall

Most significantly, however, is that he can comprehend and recall what he's read—right down to the details.

Ralph Frey is not a mental freak. Nor is he a naturally fast reader. He learned this revolutionary technique of rapid reading at the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute.

Ralph was one of our better students. He started the course at about 450 words a minute and increased his rate 8 times. Our average student begins at about 300 words a minute and works up to speeds over 1,500 words a minute.

You can do this, too!

"Reading dynamically," says Ralph, "means that I can cover both the required and the suggested reading for a course during the first month of the semester. That leaves time for more extracurricular activities. On the weekend before an exam, I've never read several complete texts."

Results are guaranteed

You may not learn to read quite as fast as Ralph Frey (and then again you might), but the nationally known Reading Dynamics Institute guarantees that you'll at least triple your reading speed with good comprehension—or receive a full tuition refund.

The technique of dynamic reading was discovered by a Utah schoolteacher.

Evelyn Wood first observed dynamic reading 18 years ago when a university professor read her term paper at an amazing 6,000 words a minute. Mrs. Wood's curiosity caused her to look for other exceptional readers, and over the next few years, she found 50 people who could read faster than 1,000 words a minute, with fine comprehension, outstanding recall, and great reading satisfaction. She was now sure it was possible to read faster than anyone had thought, but the question of how was not yet answered. It took 5 years of toil and research, working with "natural" fast readers before she developed a technique whereby average students learn to read 5 to 10 times faster.

The first Reading Dynamics Institute was opened in Washington, D.C. in September, 1959. Since that time institutes have been opened in 61 cities throughout the country, and national enrollment for the course now tops 150,000.

Comprehension is stressed.

At a recent teacher training conference Mrs. Wood emphasized that dynamic reading is nothing like the skimming techniques commonly used in speed reading courses. "You read five times faster," she pointed out, "not by reading every fifth word, but by reading five times as many words in the same amount of time." Mrs. Wood emphasized that using her technique of rapid reading, every word on the page is noted.
